

Introducing American Standard[®] Home

WHAT IS IT?

American Standard Home is a mobile app designed to connect to your smart thermostat. The communicating technology provides you with remote system monitoring and peace of mind.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Manage your home remotely using most web-enabled mobile devices.¹ With just the touch of a button, you can unlock a door, turn on lights, or adjust your heating and cooling from a distance to save you energy. Simply put, American Standard Home gives you control over your smart comfort in the most simple and accessible way. All so that you can connect with your home, even when you're not at home.

Follow the simple three-step process outlined on the back of this page to quickly get American Standard Home connected and optimized.

¹Remote Climate Access is included with the purchase of a connected control. Adding accessories to your system requires a monthly subscription for remote access via most web-enabled smartphones and computers.

GETTING SET-UP

Follow the simple, three-step process outlined below in order to get your American Standard Home and smart comfort system installed, downloaded and connected.

1

STEP 1: SELECT & INSTALL

Select the American Standard smart thermostat that will work best for your home by asking your Dealer or visiting AmericanStandardAir.com to explore the options. If you don't have a Dealer, check AmericanStandardAir.com for the nearest one. You can then schedule a date and time that your Dealer can come and install your selected thermostat.

2

STEP 2: DOWNLOAD THE APP

Search the Apple Store or Google Play store for the free American Standard Home App. Download the app, create an account and connect to your thermostat to get started.

3

STEP 3: ENABLE DIAGNOSTICS

If there is a potential issue with your system, an alert is sent directly to your preferred Dealer so they can remotely assess the data, diagnose the cause, and determine a plan of action. System alerts can proactively help prevent potential issues before they even occur.
